

Pamplona will host the international conference "Counselling in Turbulent Times" in September.

Organised by the "Asociación Navarra Mitxelena" (ANM) and the UPNA (Public University of Navarre). The registration period is still open.

On 1 and 2 September, the Public University of Navarra will host the international conference "Counselling in Turbulent Times", with a programme that includes two talks and 8 workshops led by ten prestigious specialists from Germany, the Netherlands, Hungary and Spain. It will also offer opportunities for professionals to meet.

The sessions are aimed at professionals in the field of help (psychological, social, educational, employment guidance, supervision, health or business) and are designed to strengthen the contribution of these professionals in a world of uncertainty and unrest. To this end, there will be talks that stimulate reflection; exchange of experiences in Europe; and workshops that introduce new training techniques and innovative working methods to gain efficiency in the exercise of the work of counselling individuals, families, organisations and management personnel.

Specifically, the conference will be held at the Faculty for Health Sciences, located in the premises of Hospital of Navarre, Pamplona, Avenida Barañain, no number. The Conference is organised by the Faculty of Human and Social Sciences of the UPNA and the "Asociación Navarra Mitxelena". This association is a pioneer in the training of professionals in supervision, coaching and counselling in Spain and this event is part of the celebration of its 30th anniversary. The sessions also count on the collaboration of the European Association of Supervision and Coaching EASC, the IBS Institute for Counselling and Supervision of Aachen (Germany)

For his part, Jesús Hernández Aristu, retired professor of the UPNA and president of Mitxelena, underlined "the humanist sense" of the conference, which reflects the European tradition, and thanked the faculty for its collaboration in terms of internationality and innovation in the social, educational, psychological and human sciences.

The registration fee is 95 euros until 31 July and from 120 euros onwards. For unemployed people and students, the price is 55 euros.
